

Why let foot discomfort mar your days of pleasure?

Don't think that you must sacrifice foot comfort in order to dress your foot in harmony with a fashionable costume.

Walking, standing or dancing—in the Red Cross Shoe your foot will be more admired than ever before, and the last of your day's steps will be as easy as the first.

For this shoe does not gain its comfort from clumsy lasts and loose fitting linings. Every model reflects the latest style features, and fits with just the snugness and smart effect you want.

The secret of its comfort is this: A special tanning process which retains all the natural flexibility of the leather, causes this shoe to adapt itself instantly to every movement of the foot, yet always to retain its trim, smooth fitting lines.

BURTS'

BURR L. HARRIS IS FOUND GUILTY

Jury Finds Verdict of First Degree Murder in Eighteen Minutes.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 15.—Burr L.
Harris, a young negro, was found guilty yesterday of murder in the first degree for having killed Mrs.
Rebecca P. Gay, a Christian Science practitioner, by crushing her skull with a piece of pipe in her office in a downtown building two months ago.
The jury deliberated only 18 minutes.
Harris will be sentenced next Tuesday.

Harris confessed on the witness stand that he had murdered Mrs. Gay in order to rob her. He had never seen her before entering her office, and had selected her by chance while debating as to which office to enter in quest of a victim. The crime netted him less than $50.

Confessor of Other Crimes.
Besides confessing the murder of Mrs. Gay, the negro said he had killed Mrs. M. Haskins at Compton, Cal., two years ago. He confessed also that he had sent poisoned candy to Miss Helen Mathewson, by whom he was once employed, and had tried to burn a hotel in which she was the principal owner. His defense was insanity, but a number of alienists pronounced him sane.

Mrs. Gay was a woman widely known for her charities.

"LITTLE MOTHERS" TO BE TAUGHT

Washington, D. C., Nov. 15.—Teaching the "little mothers" of the slum babies infant hygiene was described as one of the greatest factors in preventing infant mortality here yesterday at the opening session here of the fourth annual convention of the American Association for Study and Prevention of Infant Mortality.

The "little mother" problem was brought to the attention of the association in a discussion following the statement of Dr. J. A. M. Knox of Baltimore that girls in the elementary schools should be given lessons in infant hygiene. Several speakers pointed out that many girls of poor families were unable to attend school because of their baby sisters and that for that reason the instruction should be extended beyond the school room.

Miss Frances Etchberger of Baltimore, discussing "nursing and social work," declared that the babies of Prince and the Pauper received the care, the former because of the ability to pay for the best medical attention, and the latter because of the great growth of public health nursing.
An effort to reach the great public in between, she declared, should be made by the association.

The difficulties of reaching rural mothers and teaching them the care of their infants was described by Miss Fannie Clement of Washington.
A general session at the National Museum was addressed last night by

OXEN KNOCK TRAIN OFF THE TRACK

Concord, Mass., Nov. 15.—Passengers on a Boston and Maine train who were shaken up by a derailment at a grade crossing here yesterday astonished to learn that a yoke of oxen had run into the rear car and knocked it off the track.

The animals attached to a cart, had run away. Nearly every pane of glass in the car was shattered, but no one was hurt. One of the oxen fell dead, the other was apparently uninjured.

CAMPAIGN FUND IS GROWING RAPIDLY

New York, Nov. 15.—Contributions to the $4,000,000 fund being raised in a two weeks campaign for the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations totaled $2,354,135 at the close of the volunteer committees work yesterday. The collections today amounted to $160,601. The largest contribution yesterday was for $50,000 and was made anonymously.
Another anonymous gift was for $15,000 in memory of Robert R. McBurney, the Young Men's Christian association worker. Other large contributors were John Wanamaker, $5,000; James Douglass, $2,000; and George A. Morrison, $1,000.

WILL CONTEST REDUCTION WAGES

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 15.—Secretary William B. Wilson of the department of labor arrived here tonight from Seattle. Mayor Rolph and a large delegation of city officials and representatives of organized labor, city and state, met the secretary at the station in Oakland and escorted him across the bay.

"If the manufacturers reduce wages and assign as a reason the tariff law just enacted, they will be brought before the bar of public opinion by the department of commerce," said Mr.
Wilson. "In this, my department will certainly assist whatever the department of commerce may do in that respect. We shall immediately through our bureau of statistics gather information to determine whether their statements are true."

GIBBONS WINS IN SECOND ROUND
New York, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Mike Gibbons of St. Paul defeated Marty Rowan of Brooklyn in the second round of what was to have been a ten-round bout in Brooklyn tonight.
Rowan's seconds threw up a sponge when they saw that a knockout was inevitable. The weights were, Gibbons 144 1/2; Rowan 152.

SUNDAY LESSON BY THE SINS THAT CAUSED REV. RASSWEILER OF M. E. CHURCH CRUCIFIXION OF CHRIST

Aphorisms are the Sunday school lesson by Rev. G. F. Rassweiler.
The Lesson Text.

1. And Moses went up from the plains of Moab unto the mountain of Nebo, to the top of Pisgah, that is over against Jericho. And the Lord showed him all the land of Gilead, unto Dan.

2. And all Naphtali, and the land of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and all the land of Judah, unto the utmost sea.

3. And the south, and the plain of the valley of Jericho, the city of palm trees, unto Zoar.

4. And the Lord said unto him, This is the land which I sware unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, saying, I will give it unto thee: I have caused thee to see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not go over thither.

5. So Moses the servant of the Lord died there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the Lord.

6. And he buried him in a valley in the land of Moab, over against Bethpeor: but no man knoweth of his sepulcher unto this day.

7. And Moses was an hundred and twenty years old when he died: his eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated.

8. And the children of Israel wept for Moses in the plains of Moab thirty days: so the days of weeping and mourning for Moses were ended.

9. And Joshua the son of Nun was full of the spirit of wisdom; for Moses had laid his hands upon him, and the children of Israel hearkened unto him, and did as the Lord commanded Moses.

10. And there arose not a prophet since in Israel like unto Moses, whom the Lord knew face to face.

11. In all the signs and the wonders, which the Lord sent him to do in the land of Egypt to Pharaoh, and to all his servants, and to all his land.

12. And in all that mighty hand, and in all the great terror which Moses showed in the sight of all Israel.

Golden text:
Precious in the sight of Jehovah is the death of his saints.—Psa.
116:15.

The worker may die, but God's cause goes on.
Many who are working for the better day will only see that better state from afar.

If we walk with God in life, He will be with us in death.
While he lived, the people murmured, when he died, they mourned.
Great lives are never fully appreciated, till they are gone.

Moses would have been willing to sacrifice some of the terms at his funeral, if the people had spared some of the stones during his life.

When we are true to God, He will be true to us.
Those who walk on the uplands of life, do not go down into the shadow to die.

If for us to live is Christ, to die is gain.
When the last hour comes, the stress and strain of mortal endeavor seems worth while.

It is a good thing to keep the balance on the right side, for the final reckoning.
Right living seems to be good for the health.

When Moses missed the promised land, he was received into a better land, he would choose.

God has better things in store for us than we would choose.
The power of a great life goes on in the lives of those who have been inspired by its ideals.

The Moses of visions and law precedes the Joshua of action and conquest.
The foundations for success are laid in a right view of life.

The astronomer who studies the stars regulates the ringing of the dinner bell.
It is a great thing for a young man to have known a truly great soul either in the flesh or in books.

Moses was the great law giver of the ages. The influence of a great life goes on forever.

FACTORY HAS ADDED THIRTY-THREE NEW MACHINES

The "Never-Rip" overall department of the John Scowcroft & Sons company, yesterday began the manufacture of whipcord, corduroy and khaki clothing for men, and the new venture is expected to meet with the same success that has been reached by the overalls.

Thirty-three new machines recently have been installed in the East side factory and all of these will be used exclusively in the manufacture of the new line of clothes. The factory now has over 150 piece work machines.

Manager Joseph Scowcroft, Jr., of the manufacturing department of the firm, left this afternoon for the eastern markets to purchase denims for future delivery. He will also visit the big yarn markets to purchase supplies for the knitting department of the factory. His special aim in this direction will be to secure the best material obtainable for the making of men's worsted underwear.

Mr. Scowcroft's trip will occupy about three weeks' time, part of which he will spend in inspecting some of the large overall and knitting factories of the east.

CLARK'S

That the sins that caused the cru-cifiction of the Christ were not other than the sins with which we battle, is to be the theme of a series of evening sermons in First Presbyterian church on "The Common Sins That Crucified the Christ," and the commonest of all will be Sunday night's theme.

There are four of these basic trends of life given in the New Testament as causes which led to his death. Most all must plead guilty to them. Some of them are most respectable today in the opinion of the world.

ACADEMY BASKETBALL TEAM SHOULD BE A FAST ONE

"The 1913-14 Pennant" are the words that will loom up big before the eyes of the Weber academy basketball squad from now until the season closes in the early spring, according to Coach Malcolm Watson.

The squad this year is exceptionally large and of such promising material that every member will have to put forth every effort that he is capable of with the closest attention to the training table to make the team, which will endeavor to hold up the school basketball records of past years.

Coach Watson, himself one of the star members of the championship team developed by Ben Harker, one of the foremost athletic authorities several years ago, is choosing his men very carefully.

Active work was begun last night in preparation for the opening of the season and the following were chosen to work out in the respective positions:

Forwards, Belnap, Bassett, Layman and Willie; center, Richards and Pfe; guards, Harris, Ferrin, Miller, and Monson. Myron McIntyre was selected to manage the team.

CANDIDATES FOR LEAGUE PRESIDENT

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 15.—The managers of the Federal league teams met in this city today and it is expected that one of the results of their deliberations will be the selection of a president. Among those whose names have been prominent in the discussion of the possibilities for the post are those of Ed Steinelinger and Lloyd Rickert. The former has been the favorite of Otto Stifel, a St. Louis bac-ker of the league, while the latter has been boosting his own game considerably, it is said. It is believed either of these two will meet with determined opposition. Neither can command unanimous consent.

Charles Carr of Indianapolis is also a candidate. His adherents in that city point out that he is widely experienced in organized baseball, that he has been successful on the diamond, and also in the business world, and that he is a man thoroughly equipped to head the league. Furthermore, it is said he would make a worthy general in case open warfare is waged upon the new rival by the two older big leagues. Carr has been non-committal on the subject.
But it is believed he would consider the right kind of an offer.

The selection of a president would have been made when the Federal magnates met in secret session in Indianapolis November 1, but it was decided that time for consideration should be given to the managers of the two new teams, Buffalo and Baltimore, which were admitted at this gathering.

The American Gold dollar is our monetary standard, not because of the size of the eagle on it but because it is pure stuff and is worth one hundred cents.

Yesterday and today are two different propositions.
Grandfather's hand-made cowhide boots were the same size—meaning that they were mechanically standardized.

Standardization means something. In motor car building it means building from the tested bests of everything—from standard parts.

Away back in the dark ages of motordom they used to get the band out if anybody happened to be able to coax an automobile from the blacksmith shop to the postoffice. It was considered the limit of transcontinental touring, and they gave the intrepid dare devil driver a loving cup. If a chap happened to grind out two crank shafts the same size they heralded the achievement as an international epoch and gave him a trophy.

If any man were foolish enough to attempt marketing a car not mechanically standardized these days, the sheriff would soon point out his mistake to him by advertising his fixtures for sale.

After the early trail blazers standardized the mechanics of the motor car, the efficiency engineer came along and standardized the price and quality of the motor car.

The standardization of the efficiency engineer is called economic standardization. It has nothing to do with the sizes of nuts and bolts—it has to do only with the quality and cost of nuts and bolts.

This sort of standardization is a little hard for a mechanic to understand, but the man who writes the check for the finished automobile understands that it means a better car for less money.

This is the proof—a Cole Touring Car with a wheel base of 120 inches, four cylinders, sturdy, quiet, with appealing lines, completely equipped, Delco electric self-cranking and
